										returned & dumped its fuel + landed then refueled & took off after the attack was over for Honolulu flying low to the water. We had several casualties & numerous wounded. The attack lasted about 45 minutes We will evacuate our camp & seek the best shelter we can find to sleep in for tonight which won't be much & build dugouts tomorrow. We are expecting another attack tonight. Pan air the mountains & the airport also Peale Island Port the Point at today's attack. What a terrible feeling to be caught out in the open with bombs & machine gun bullets hunting all around you & you can't help but to do anything about it To bad planes are probably operating from the Marshall Islands which are about 600 miles away from us

one attack last night. Enemy Bombers appeared at 11:30 PM today 3 of them 3 flights of 9 each flying in a tight V formation & flying low again & again today & one caught one in the open as are lots of other men. However we have our air force (4 B-24 bombers) in the air & our A. A. Guns are all set & open fire on them today. Bombs everything on the island & hit our warehouse & destroy & set fire to the machine shop & the ship's shop & mine I was a few miles ago & hit our hospital with all our wounded men inside. I think that was accidental. Don't know how many dead & wounded today. I think our A. A. Guns & planes got 3 enemy Bombers today. The attack lasted about 1 hr. one of our planes was crippled in today's attack. we have 3 left in air.

Well all left Bunker last night 8:30 A.M. today 42 Jap dive bombers came over the island firing the plane for about 5 minutes before starting their attack. our P-51 had just left about an hour before I was sure that he got away safely. But Sgt. Boy it was a terrible feeling when those planes dove all over the island dropping their bombs & machine guns. Everything it seemed as though they were going to come right and was dug out It almost seemed that the next bomb would get me with a direct hit. But they missed, our plane took off like their face & went out hunting their carrier. But couldn't find it because of poor visibility so came back & started the enemy every attack lasted about 1 hour very little damage & we got no planes

Well something is very strange on Wake. But nobody seems to know what it is. But we may find out tomorrow. However I have had some ideas. There have been strange on Wake here since I got here on Nov 11.

Tues Feb 26 - at 6:00 PM
 Wind shifted started to shell the island supported by air sea attacks but had not much damage was done on boat many casualties. The attack lasted approx 2 hrs. Several planes in shell on you expect more action soon. Don't know how many ships or planes took part in the attack. We all went into our sleeping gear of course but shells were landing on the island. I think it will come out to let it see.

										Down of our plane (U.S.) which participated in the attack on Wake Island Feb 24, 1942. was forced down 40 miles at sea at 7 AM. on the 24 th I & the pilot of his machine took to their rubber life boat & it took them 17 hours to drift to Wake Island where they came ashore at dawn without being detected. They were captured & brought to Japanese headquarters on Wake Island & locked in jail. They were not injured. They were from the aircraft carrier Enterprise on a reconnaissance flight over Wake. We still do not know how many ships took part in the attack, but probably at least 5 ships & a number of planes. The island was shelled generally with armor piercing high explosive

shells. 7 lb. I found last one # motor flying boat which was sitting low as Borel + a Bomb got a direct hit on it. our dredge was also hit Badly a spot was shelled + bombed some communications among the Japanese. We hope to be leaving for home soon. That is our fondest hope also we are trusting that the U. S. knows we are here there are 38 of us. Well this is the last day of Feb. We are looking forward to some action soon + the sooner the better. It seems the island was shelled with 5 inch + 8" + 10" shells + bombed with small Bombs 2 5" + 50# + 100#

										3. In morning at about 9 AM several Japanese Bombers took off & over island to home base. One of them at about 30 ft or he dropped his Bomb 4 of them in an attempt to sink the Atsuta Bay his Bomber when his ship to pieces landing on the sea at about 9 AM was a flaming mass of wreckage that went to behind I believe in this Bomber & all was killed. This makes flying boat of material which crashed in the lagoon & which was later completely wrecked & is shown to be one of material of the Bomber which crashed on the lagoon & was later shelled by the ship & completely destroyed & only 10 fighter plane which crashed on the beach by motor trouble total loss & one fighter, partially wrecked & is probably then this Atsuta Bay and Bomber to day Atsuta Bay

We were informed that we were to be the official witnesses to the execution of Julius Maynard Hoffmeister, age 39, of San Francisco, Calif. This is a very sad duty which I was called upon to witness. We are loaded into a car & taken to the scene of the frame to hear in no chance to escape this gruesome detail. We are lined up & the prisoner is kneeling with his hand tied behind him & he is blindfolded on the edge of his grave which

has already been dug & the Court-martial sentence is read & it is misting rain. The Jap officer who is to be executed takes his place & draws his sword, pours some water on it & prepares himself to deliver the Blow. It is now about 5:30 A.M. Tokyo Time or 7:30 A.M. Wake Island Time. All of the Japanese officers are present & most of the soldiers. A signal is given & a guard reaches & tips back his head up & a second later the sword flashes downward & the terrible deed is done. The Japanese soldiers applaud the accuracy of the swordsman. Rube took it like a man he never spoke nor gave any sign of emotion whatever. He gasped just as the sword

It was a bit hard to say "goodbye" & see them go. I had some good friends amongst them. All with POW. The ship was the Regina number 16, 975 tons. I hope they get there safely. There is a very strong rumor in camp that our POWs are going home in the very near future. I hope I believe we will be on our way home soon. I hope we will go on a neutral ship. Food is improving & we get more tobacco than before. I saw 4 boxes every 10 days. The best kind each one carried 2 boxes of cigarettes.

										I was almost to the depot when the engine got to the crossing and I was the look and I may have been some time there yesterday I don't know but I checked the books and at about 7:00 AM I left in heavy snow at that so they must have been about a mile back. The place was on the north side of the road and I left the depot about 4:00 AM and left no message. Had a message left at the depot. The message was from the fireman and it was to go to the depot at 8:00 AM. I did not see an engine on the way to the depot. The depot was closed.
