EXTRA COPIES

1. Using lists made during the normal processing of individual cases, a review of the previously reported numbers and types of cases was possible. On recounting these cases minor corrections were made. Corrected reports and identification of groups and sub-groupings in a consolidated report will enable a more rapid analysis of the particular types of cases under study (see inclosure 1). The corrections made do not materially change the percentage relationship between the types of cases as originally reported.

2. As requested, a thorough study was made to determine the basis for the number of positive determinations on these cases reported for November and December 1958. Each positive case in the type specified in your paragraph 2, was individually verified.

3. The requested information, on the reason or basis for positive determinations in new cases as well as in cases with prior negative determinations, is attached as inclosure 2.

4. The report on the percentage of cases determined positive from prior negative determinations of AGRD, ARGEN and Arrears in Pay program is attached as inclosure 4.

5. Computation of the percentages in these cases considering the appropriate related groups and sub-groups are (see inclosure 3):

a. New cases (205) processed of which 59 or 29% were determined positive. The principle basis for these positive determinations is because the veteran's name is on the official Guerrilla Affairs Division roster.

b. Of all prior negative determinations processed (1002) 133 or 13% were determined positive. The principle basis for these positive determinations is because additional official records were located or new affidavits or other secondary evidence was received and found acceptable as proof of service.

c. Of all prior positive determinations processed (1022) 61 or 6% resulted in partial changes of a period from non casualty to casualty status or to a longer period of service. The principle basis for these positive determinations is because additional official records were located or new affidavits or other secondary evidence was received and found acceptable as proof of service.

d. Of all prior positive determinations processed (1022) 27 or 2.6% resulted in partial changes of a period from casualty to non casualty status or to a shorter period of service. The principle reason for these changes is because errors were made in evaluating evidence in the prior determination or in the case of civilian guerrillas the former soldiers are listed on revised Guerrilla Affairs Division rosters for a much shorter period of service.

d. Fifty-eight or about 5% of the 1022 cases processed were superseded by positive determinations.

e. The number of positive determinations being made is being increased. This is not understood in view of the fact that:

- a. The Adjutant General Records Department was physically located in the Philippines for a number of years which facilitated the filing of cases.
- b. Extensive publicity was given to the records program and the location in the Philippines.
- c. Filipinos were strongly inclined to file for benefits when a military advantage possibility existed for a favorable determination.
- d. The types of cases referred to in paragraph 2c and 2d above would have been given a number of reviews in the past.
- e. In view of the nature of this problem and the increasing amount of military assistance through the Philippines and procedures, it is suggested that greater attention be given to the determinations made on Filipino cases. Special attention may be given to those cases which involve changes to prior determinations.
- f. Request that a thorough study be made to determine the cause for the high number of positive determinations on the cases referred to in paragraph 2c above. Specific information should be developed in the study on the period of time the cases changed from being determined negative or MIA under the "old" rules.

1. Reference is made to the November and December 1958 Monthly Report of Philippine Cases Processed (Reports Control Symbol AGCR-72).

2. The reports indicate the following:

a. Sixty-nine or about 32% of the 214 new cases adjudicated were determined positive.

b. One hundred fifty seven or about 88% of the 178 cases previously determined negative were superseded by positive determinations.

c. Fifty-eight or about 70% of the 83 cases involving questions on periods of service were changed in part from negative to positive.

3. The number of positive determinations being made is higher than anticipated. This is not understood in view of the following:

a. The Adjutant General Records Depository was physically located in the Philippines for a number of years which facilitated the filing of claims.

b. Extensive publicity was given to the various programs involving benefits to Filipinos while AGRD was located in the Philippines.

c. Filipinos were strongly inclined to file for benefits where only the slightest possibility existed for a favorable determination.

d. The types of cases referred to in paragraphs 2b and 2c above usually have been given a number of reviews in the past.

4. In view of the nature of this problem and the far-reaching effect of any substantive change in past policies and procedures, it is necessary that great care be exercised in the determinations made on Filipino cases. Particular caution must be taken on those cases which involve changes to prior determinations.

5. Request that a thorough study be made to determine the basis for the high degree of positive determinations on the cases referred to in paragraph 2 above. PHILIPPINE ARMY AND GUERRILLA CASES

Generalized Reasons and Basis for Positive Determination and Changes in Prior Positive Determinations.

REPORT ON ALL POSITIVE CASES

- a. Positive service previously established on secondary evidence accepted for arrears in pay determination. Service reported is substantially the same as in arrears in pay determination.
- b. Positive service previously established on secondary evidence accepted for arrears in pay determination. Prior report to Veterans Administration is not compatible with arrears in pay determination and official revocation of arrears in pay determination was not made. Corrected report furnished Veterans Administration with service data substantially as shown in arrears in pay determination.
- c. Official information or official records located. Name appears on a payroll, roster, casualty report, hospital record, medical tag, Special Orders and other military type records contained in Recovered Personnel Records Branch. Veterans or Next of Kin on occasions furnished some documents tested and accepted as official.
- d. Error made in evaluation of evidence in prior examination and determination. Examples of these are: Affiant's file was not available at that time and is now located; Affiant's status was not established and his record is now completed with positive service.
- e. New affidavits or other secondary evidence received from veteran or next of kin and found acceptable for proof of service or change in status.
- f. Enlistment record in file, assignment orders and discharge authority. For liberation service only (current enlistee). Entire service was in a duty status under full military control and no determination under the Missing Persons Act is necessary.
- g. Guerrilla service only is claimed. Persons name must be on an officially approved Guerrilla Affairs Division roster. Unless proof of non performance of service is available, service is reported on the basis of evidence and entries on those rosters within the dates authorized for the unit.
- h. Persons name is on an officially approved Guerrilla Affairs Division roster which limits service to period beginning in 1945. Service was previously determined showing a much earlier beginning date based on rosters which were later revoked by Guerrilla Affairs Division. Change in prior determination made to show reduced period.
